Dear Chamber Members,

April has been a strong reminder of why we do this work—connecting business, community, and leadership. From meaningful conversations at Coffee with a Cop to the planning of our upcoming Mother's Day Brunch on May 9, we're building both trust and opportunity across the Trotwood region.

Looking ahead, mark your calendar for the Let's Get Connected Job Fair & Business Showcase on June 12. This is a chance for businesses to find new talent, highlight their services, and engage with the broader community.

I also want to recognize the City of Trotwood, who adopted a new Comprehensive Land Use Policy to guide growth and development over the next decade. This plan emphasizes transportation improvements, new housing developments, and aims to attract new businesses to the area.

Let's continue this momentum. If you haven't renewed your membership yet, now's the time. And if you know a local business looking to grow, invite them to join us.

Together, we are stronger.

In service,
Sean Freeman President
Trotwood Chamber of Commerce.

Although there were few residents attending the "coffee with a cop" April 8 from Pleasantwood Senior Apartments, those that attended thoroughly enjoyed the interaction with the police department. Our sincere thanks to Zach Logan for providing coffee and donuts for this event and our special thanks to Kimberly Willis, Oak Street Health, for presenting an interactive game to all attendees.
